Introduction

Remedy Trading in 2016 was launched a sustainable procurement principle which is a 2 steps ECOMERCH program for its clients and customers, wherein:

- a) First, we evaluate the offered products from a sustainability standpoint and environmental impact in terms of shipping methods. This way our clients can see the impact of the shipping method chosen and can decide which option to use.
- b) Second, we prepared a questionnaire for our suppliers, based on this questionnaire, we will get more information on the sustainability of their production methods and products, which we can then evaluate and communicate towards our clients, to be able to see the offered merchandise from a sustainable procurement standpoint.

Economical shipping

- a) We know that in many cases with China or other distant production, the most resources used while shipping of the goods to Europe, for this reason, when possible we suggest the most economical shipping route.
- b) When the distant production inevitable due to budget or product availability, we always offer sea freight as the main option for our client instead of airfreight, as it is a more environmentally friendly solution.
- c) To ensure that sea freight is a possible and viable option for shipping, we suggest clients place seasonal orders in time (e.g. 5-6 months ahead of delivery), so there will be no need to air freight goods at a higher cost when goods ordered later.

Promotion of local production

- a) We offer local suppliers products as an alternative, for our clients. Purchases made locally will reduce shipping time and cost also will help the local economy.

Sustainable materials, products

- b) When the product demand from client allows, we offer goods that were made of recycled materials as an option, to reduce consumption.
- c) We also offer products that can replace more wasteful applications, (i.e. reusable promotional folding shopping bags, to reduce the use of plastic shopping bags.) We always aim to get the best possible quality in the given budget, so the product can have the longest lifespan.
- d) When possible for the given project we aim to offer ideas and product that have a real practical use or application, rather than just being a promotional product.
- e)
